July 4th in Numbers

On this day in 1776, the Declaration of Independence was approved by the Continental Congress, setting 13 colonies on the road to freedom as a sovereign nation. As always, this most American of holidays is marked by parades, fireworks and backyard barbecues across the country.

Population 2.5 million In July 1776, the estimated number of people living in the newly independent nation.
2010 309.6 million The nation's estimated population on this July Fourth.

United States

*Flags

$3,000,000

$320,277

Dollar value of U.S. flags exported in 2009. Mexico was the leading customer, purchasing $333,882 worth.

$301,500,000

Annual dollar value of shipments of fabricated flags, banners and similar emblems by the nation's manufacturers, according to the latest published economic census data.

Florida

The state that led the nation in watermelon production last year (818 million pounds).

Other leading producers of this popular fruit included California, Georgia and Texas, each with more than 500 million pounds.

7 in 10

The chances that the fresh tomatoes in your salad came from Florida or California.

Combined they account for 70 percent of U.S. fresh market tomato production last year. The ketchup on your burger or hot dog probably came from California, which accounted for 95 percent of processed tomato production in 2009.

Corn on the Cob

Another popular Fourth of July side dish is corn on the cob. Florida, California, Georgia, Washington and New York together accounted for 66 percent of the fresh market sweet corn produced nationally in 2009.

About 1 in 3

The odds that your side dish of baked beans originated from North Dakota, which produced 34 percent of the nation's dry, edible beans in 2009.
